* 2002 Seville, Spain
Dmitro SABLIN of Ukraine (UKR) won the silver medal in the C-1 200 m event, but was disqualified when he tested positive for doping. He became the first person to fail a doping test in canoe sprint at Olympic or World Championships level though he did compete at the following year's World Championships.

 2003 Gainesville, United States
Sergey ULEGIN of Russia (RUS) won two gold medals in C-4 200 m, C-4 500 m and one silver medal in C-2 500 m, but was stripped of those medals when he tested positive for doping. His teammates in the C-2 500 m (Aleksandr Kostoglod), C-4 200 m (Aleksandr Kostoglod, Roman Kruglyakov and Maxim Opalev) and C-4 500 m (Aleksandr Kostoglod, Roman Kruglyakov, and Maxim Opalev) events also lost their medals as a result of Ulegin's positive test. Sergey Ulegin received a two-year suspension.

 1975 Belgrade, Yugoslavia
It marked the first time in the Championships' history in which there was tie for a medal and that happened to be for the gold in the men's K-1 1000 m event between Oreste PERRI (ITA) and Grzegorz SLEDZIEWSKI (POL).

* 2010 Poznań, Poland
The second would occur thirty-five years later in the C-1 200 m (debuted 1994) for the bronze between Canada's Richard Dalton and Ukraine's Yuriy Cheban, neither of who were born in 1975.
